Something New Under the Sun—A new era is dawning upon women. Hitherto she has been called upon to suffer the ill of mankind and her own besides. The frequent and distressing irregularities peculiar to her sex have long been to her the "direful spring of woes unnumbered." In the mansion of the rich and hovel of poverty alike woman has been the constant yet patient victim of a thousand ills unknown to man—and without a remedy. "Oh Lord, how long!" in the agony of her soul, hath she cried. But now the hour of her redemption is come. She will suffer no more, for Bradfield's Female Regulator, "Woman's Best Friend," is sold by all Druggists.

Dr. J. Bradfield, Prop., Atlanta, Ga. Price 75 cents and $1.50 per bottle.

SMALL CHANGE.

Thunder and rain storm last night. "Let that wood alone, or I'll shoot you."

Peach trees have bloomed this week.

Thunder, lightning and rain last Thursday night.

A blind man, a little boy and a loud hand organ serenaded the town Thursday.

Rev. J. B. Moody, of Fulton, Ky., will preach at the Baptist church to-morrow morning and evening.

Milan needs about one dozen factories of different kinds. She is lagging behind some of the neighboring towns.

A horse thief was captured near Trezevant the other night, but afterwards escaped. We did not learn his name.

Rev. J. D. Lewis will preach to-morrow morning and evening at the Odd Fellows' Hall, being his regular appointments.

A couple of clowns, with some trained goats and canary birds and a headless rooster, exhibited at the college Friday night.

The members of the Presbytery are a dignified, good-looking body of gentlemen, and they made a good impression on our people.

Christian Bauer jumped the town a few days since, leaving a month's rent unsettled. We are afraid he was misnamed. It ought to be changed to "Left" Bauer.

The growing wheat, we learn, is not at all promising. Occasionally a good field can be seen, but most of it is a very poor stand. The fruit prospect is still good. Very little has been damaged.

"Our Day," for April, has reached our table, and is filled with excellent matter. This is a cheap magazine at one dollar per year, and it is published by a prominent Tennesseean. Address S. A. Cunningham, New York.

Eli Stone, the popular grocer, has an advertisement elsewhere in this paper. He keeps a full line of the freshest and best staple and fancy groceries, and buys all the new delicacies that come in the market. He delivers goods in the city, and sells as cheap as anybody.

Bob Haun has sold his fine stallion, Duluth, Jr., to J. W. Eubanks, Bowling Green, Ky. This speaks well for our West Tennessee stock, when Kentucky men come here to buy stallions. Cale Haun has a brother of Duluth, Jr., who is extra fine. Bob says he has the prettiest tail he ever saw on a four-year old.

Rev. Lewis Black, colored, has established his headquarters at Milan, Tenn., to which place his family has gone to join him. Lewis is a man of good moral character, and sustained an untarnished reputation in this community. We regret to give him up, and wish for him much success in his new field of labor.—Paris Intelligencer.

Mr. A. S. Davis has bought from A. J. White, of Maury county, the fine Jack, Jim Roscoe, said to be one of the best blooded animals from that fine stock country. He is nearly fifteen hands high, well-shaped, up-headed, and a handsome animal. He will keep him at Trezevant this season, where he will be glad to see his friends who admire fine stock. His price is $10 by the insurance. The mule trade in this section is becoming immense, good mules bring high prices, and it is as cheap to raise a fine mule as a sorry one.

We are indebted to the New Orleans Time-Democrat for a copy of its Almanac for 1883. It is replete with a mass of political, statistical, commercial and industrial information, and is one of the most valuable, ready-reference pamphlets we have seen. It is presented to every yearly subscriber, and is sold to the public for 25 cents per copy.

Mr. Frenz, while in St. Louis last week, won a fine oil painting at a shooting match, in which there were many contestants. With a globe-eight rifle, two hundred yards range, he made forty-nine out of a possible fifty, shooting at a target. He is one of the best shots in this country, with either rifle or shot gun. The picture is at his store.

D. Barner, A. C. Ridgway and J. P. Bradberry, who live near Kenton, were arrested by U. S. Marshal Haun a few days since, on information that they had been selling leaf tobacco to consumers without license. They were brought before U. S. Commissioner Jordan, when they each gave bond for $500. It is thought they are innocent of any intention to violate the law.

Attention is called to the large advertisement of Mr. Frenz. He has just received a splendid assortment of new goods, which he bought very low, and he proposes to give our people the advantage of his bargains. As will be seen, he puts prices down to bottom figures. No doubt there will be a rush on him as soon as the people find it out. Go and look at the stacks of handsome spring goods, and we believe you will be sure to buy.

Amusements.

The Prentice Club played "The Confidential Clerk" last Tuesday night to a fair audience. The play is good, but the boys were not as well up in their parts as we have seen them. They evidently had not studied as closely as usual, although some of them did well. The ladies, as usual, were better posted, and their parts were rendered in a more satisfactory manner. The farce was lively and laughable. "Senator Wilson" took the leading part, and was well supported by Fannie Loving. We are glad to learn that the club is now out of debt, and has a little money in its treasury. There is good talent in the company, and reasonable application will develop it.

"Senator" Wilson "performed" to a $3.50 house last night. Nuff sed.

A Narrow Escape.

A spark from the flue set fire to the roof of the Methodist church last Saturday morning, just about the time service had begun. The fire was discovered by some one outside, the congregation were notified, when they passed out quietly, without accident. They prompt action of two or three gentlemen in ascending to the roof, tearing off a few shingles and throwing a few buckets of water on it saved the house. Had it burned, the loss would have been severe on the membership, as there was no insurance on the building at the time of the fire. Since, however, the Trustees have had it insured in the sum of $1,500.

I failed to get much money or peas either this week and have put in my full time marking my goods up. I have lots of them, all departments are glittering and full up, and I will fall on the prices if you think I have marked them too high. The horse shoe is still in the house and good luck is sure to follow each transaction.—Tom Harrison.

A Paying Investment.

Parties desiring to invest in something that will give them a quick and generous interest on their money should buy a county right to make and sell the Queen Quilting Frame—the simplest, best and cheapest labor-saving contrivance yet invented for the ladies. It will make three quilts per day, and allow time for house-keeping.

God bless the children! they should not be permitted to suffer and die. We can cure them with DR. MOFFETT'S TEETHINA (Teething Powders).

T. J. Davis, Mossy Creek, says: "Brown's Iron Bitters benefited my wife when suffering from the complaints for which it is recommended."

Salesmen of patented articles should not fail to examine the Queen Quilting Frame, now on exhibition in this city by Messrs. Jackson & Harris. It will prove to be one of the best investments of any household patent before the public. Call on or address them here if you wish to secure a county right.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

About three hundred relatives and friends of the family assembled at the residence of Joseph Williams, Esq., one and one-half miles east of town, last Saturday, to celebrate the golden wedding of Mr. Williams and his venerable wife. On the 24th of March, 1833, they were married within one mile of their present residence, she being Miss Ann Jordan. After their marriage, they moved to the place where they now live, and have continued there ever since. At that time Huntingdon, Trenton and Jackson were mere backwoods villages, with a few log houses, and Milan had never been thought of. Their near neighbors were generally about ten miles off. There were present nine children and thirtyone grand children, besides other relatives and friends. They have also five great grand children in Arkansas and Texas, whom they have never seen.

The feast consisted of well barbecued meats of various kinds, bread, cake in great variety, confectionaries, etc., in fact a royal spread—one of the finest ever given in this part of the country. The cakes were all made at home, and would have done honor to the finest bakers. All who were there enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent, and every one left well pleased with the day's entertainment, wishing the hosts many happy years of life to come.

Hurry Up!

If you want to buy a county right to manufacture and sell the famous Queen Quilting Frame, you had better call on Messrs. Jackson & Harris early. They have already sold several counties, and are negotiating for the sale of others.
